

Racism at Work

Elsa Auerbach and Nina Wallerstein

Image and text from Problem Posing at Work, published by Grass Roots Press.

Jean-Louis: I'm quitting.

Jose: How come?

Jean-Louis: I don't want to be stuck washing dishes forever.

Jose: Your English is good. Why don't you apply for a job at the front desk?

Jean-Louis: Have you ever seen a Haitian in the front of the house?

Put It in your Own Words

Describe what you see in the picture. Describe what the dialog is about. Explain how racism happens at work sometimes.
