

All My World Inside One Bag

Rosa Patino

I'm wearing comfortable shoes, because I like to walk. While I walk, I can order my ideas.

I'm wearing a raincoat, because sometimes the rain surprises me in the street when I'm walking.

I'm wearing a loose blouse, because I don't like restrictions.

I'm always wearing my sunglasses, because sometimes I need to look at life through a filter. There are some things that hurt me.

But suddenly, I put them on my head, because I like to look at life's brilliant colors.

I like to wear flowers in my hair, because I love the smell of the spring season.

I'm wearing beautiful pictures in my mind to remember people that left me.

I'm wearing a notebook to write some ideas that come to me.

When I go to the beach, I like to take a dip in the sea wearing the waves as a swimsuit.

When I travel, I just carry on one suitcase, almost empty, to put inside along my trip, new things, new experiences, new pictures...

My whole world is inside one bag.

I'm wearing a ring to remember that someone loves me.

I wear the smell of my son when he was born, inside my heart.

I wear the sounds of the wind between the trees that I heard in a little village where I spent my summer holidays when I was a child. This sound follows me everywhere and means peace, silence, childhood, happy evenings in a long summer.

I'm wearing some wrinkles on my face, because I've laughed, because I've cried, because I've been happy, because I've been worried. . . because I've lived.

I don't like to wear makeup because I don't need a mask.

And finally, I try to wear a big smile to dress all of my naked face.

---

Rosa Patino is a student in the intermediate ESOL class at the Riverside Branch of the New York Public Library in New York City.